

CENTRAL KENYA LAND AND SECURITY FARMERS DIALOGUE - IN KAMBU COUNTY. ON 15TH MAY 2018 AT LIMURU COUNTY CLUB.

The meeting was organized by tea farmers and from mixed farming enterprises. During the meeting the lessons and resolutions made on land and security during the Busia dialogue were discussed.

Dominicah Wanjiru addressing the farmers on land restoration & land governance which is a challenge to them, and it has resorted into low agricultural production. To improve this there is need to do:

- a) Crop rotation
- b) Agribusiness
- c) Involve youth in agribusiness
- d) Capacity building
- e) Farmers exchange program for learning experience.
- f) Community co-operation by forming groups/ societies especially women and young people who are mostly affected
- g) Utilization and land ownership
The government has issued title deeds to land owners hence creating land security and improved food production.

On peace building and food security Ejidia Njeri said that there is need to maintain harmony between the communities where they face challenges, and this will build peace among the farmers and improve farm product.

She also informed farmers on food safety, and how to prevent food loss and food waste.

The MCA (member of county assembly) Hon. Joel Munyua Tigoni Ngecha Ward addressing the farmers, where he cited on enhancement of security, spearhead the issue of title deeds to land owners by county and national government, and ensure there is enough water during dry spell. He thanked the Farmers' Dialogue members for the effort made on volunteer to inform farmers on activities they do, and on sustainable agriculture to improve food production.
